George Fox University
High School State Qualifying Band Festival

Thursday & Friday, March 9-10, 2017
Bauman Auditorium

The George Fox University Band Festival will be a state-qualifying event.
Three certified judges will adjudicate the performance providing comments; one judge will be in the sight-reading room. Two awards will be mailed after the festival—one for outstanding band of the day and one for outstanding sight-reading band of the day.
We ask that all bands stay to listen to at least two other bands while at the festival.

The cost of the festival will be $250 per band, and each band will receive a digital copy of their performance on a flash drive at the end of the day. We have room for 22 bands and will add bands to the schedule on a first-respond, first served basis. We will use the OBDA forms and the sliding scale depending on school size. There is a 30-minute time limit similar to the OSAA State Championships. Bands will be timed starting when the first band member steps on stage until the stage is empty. Bands will be docked points for going over time. This allows us to stay on schedule.
