

WORKSHOPS

Be Known (as an Effective Learner) at George Fox

Friday, Sept. 16, 10:40 a.m. | Bauman Auditorium
Rick Muthiah, Dean of Learning Support Services

Students come to college from varied backgrounds and with a wide range of skills. This session will address success strategies for students who are new to George Fox, with a focus on effective learning strategies and resources available at the university.

Using APA Format Effectively

Friday, Sept. 23, 10:40 a.m. | Lemmons 8
Sue O'Donnell, Associate Professor of Psychology

Freaking out because you don't know APA style for citations? This workshop is for you. We'll cover American Psychological Association citation and reference formatting, along with several guidelines for writing in APA style.

Tips for Success: Notetaking, Studying, and Test-taking Strategies

Friday, Oct. 7, 10:40 a.m. | EHS 125
Rick Muthiah, Dean of Learning Support Services

Do tests drive you crazy? You read the book, did the assignments, studied the night before, and still didn't do as well as you wanted on your test. What else can you do? This session will cover several strategies for improving learning and test performance.

MLA Basics

Tuesday, Oct. 11, 6:30 p.m.. | EHS 125
Gary Tandy, Professor of English

What are the most important elements of MLA style that you need to know to prepare effective papers? This session will cover those elements as well as guide you to other resources that can assist you in mastering this academic style of writing.

Steps to a Writing a Successful Research Paper

Tuesday, Oct. 18, 6:30 p.m.. | EHS 125
Gary Tandy, Professor of English, and
Jane Scott, Public Services Librarian

Research papers can seem overwhelming, but following a step-by-step, organized approach can make your life much less stressful. This session will walk through those steps and guide you to campus and Internet resources to help make you a research pro.

Financial Follies

Friday, Oct. 21, 10:40 a.m.. | EHS 125
Ryan Halley, Associate Professor of Finance

Have you wondered what it would be like to have more freedom with your personal finances? Have you ever been stressed about your financial situation? If so, come find out what you need to know about money. You'll be surprised how simple this process can be. This workshop will provide information on a variety of personal finance topics, including budgeting, credit cards, and student loans.

The Most Common Editing Errors – And What To Do About Them

Friday, Nov. 4, 10:40 a.m. | EHS 125
Bill Jolliff, Professor of English

Most of us don't worry too much about a writing mistake or two. It's what we have to say that really matters, right?

Well, yes – and no.

The bad news is that too many editing errors can keep our readers from taking us – and our ideas – seriously. The good news is that most of our errors are relatively easy to fix, once we figure out which ones we're prone to make.

In this workshop, Bill will identify the 10 errors that professors are most likely to mark on student work, and he'll demonstrate how to fix them.

Using APA Format Effectively

Friday, Nov. 18, 10:40 a.m. | Hoover 105
Sue O'Donnell, Associate Professor of Psychology

Freaking out because you don't know APA style for citations? This workshop is for you. We'll cover American Psychological Association citation and reference formatting, along with several guidelines for writing in APA style.

