

Nursing Transfer Guide Spring 2013 Cohort

Through the spring (January) of 2013, the George Fox nursing program will begin once a year in the spring semester. Beginning with the fall of 2013, spring start will no longer be available and our program will begin once a year in the fall semester. First-year pre-requisites including the completion of one social science course will remain the same while second year pre-requisites will be absorbed into the nursing program curriculum.

The following first year prerequisite classes must be successfully completed (grade of C or better) before you apply to the program:

Admission to the Nursing Program for the Spring 2013 Cohort:

Students must first apply and be admitted to George Fox University before they can apply and be admitted to the nursing program. It is suggested applications for undergraduate admissions are completed by September 1st.

DEADLINE: Completed applications plus all required documentation due at the Department of Nursing NO LATER THAN 5 P.M. ON SEPT. 30.

- All students must submit an application into the nursing major.
- Admission into the nursing major is very competitive.
- A minimum cumulative GPA of 2.8 is REQUIRED FOR SUBMISSION of an application; this includes all transfer courses. NOTE: This minimum cumulative GPA of 2.8 is not considered when applications are evaluated and reviewed for an admission decision. A second GPA, using first-year required prerequisite courses, will be calculated to assist in determining, in part, one's qualifications for admission into the major. (See GPA prerequisite requirements)
- It is strongly recommended that all science prerequisite course work be completed within the last five years.

In order for admission into the nursing major, the following criteria MUST be met and included with the application:

- Test of Essential Academic Skills (TEAS)
- Two Essays
- Two Recommendation and Appraisal forms
