

Additional Costs and Fees Associated with the AT program

The athletic training program attempts to limit extra costs associated with the program, however, students are responsible for the following costs:

1. Transportation: the students Junior year, second year in the program, they will complete clinical rotations at affiliated sites off-campus. There will be off-campus travel expenses with these clinical educational rotations.
2. Maintain CPR certification: student complete CPR for the Professional Rescuer certification through their HLTH 233 Responding to Emergencies course. A course fee covers the cost of these cards. The student will have the opportunity through set dates at George Fox for recertification with varied costs between $20-35 depending on certifying organization.
3. HHPE 374 course fee $245: this course fee is to provide each student with a fanny pack and Certified Background.com screening necessary for clinical educational placements.
4. The students must also purchase tan/khaki pants to wear during clinical educational experiences.
5. Students must meet immunization requirements in application (see application requirements) to the program and costs vary amongst providers. Students will also have to complete annual TB testing and costs vary. If a student tests positive on the TB testing a follow up chest x-ray will be performed at the students' expense, which will vary per provider.
6. NATA membership is recommended
