

Carol Hutchinson, DMin

Adjunct Faculty

Email: chutchinson@georgefox.edu

I was born, raised, and have traveled extensively in the Pacific Northwest (Walla Walla and Seattle, Washington; Milton-Freewater, Baker City, Ontario and Portland, Oregon). My teaching career began in 1979 when I went to Argentina, South America, as a missionary. I spent 20 years there, learned Spanish, and traveled to many other Latin American countries. I then returned to the United States in 1999. I have also traveled extensively in the United States.

I received my Doctor of Ministry degree from Portland Seminary. For five years, I worked as Pastor of Recovery, a 12-step program at Salem Alliance Church. I've also done in-home tutoring with the No Child Left Behind initiative. Before becoming part of the GFU faculty, I taught as an adjunct, to which I now return.

Academic Background

- DMin, Leadership and Spiritual Formation, Portland Seminary
- MA, Religious Education, Canadian Theological Seminary (now known as Ambrose University College)
- BA, Psychology (Child Development), Western Washington State University

Expertise and Interests

- Served as professor in Bible Institute of Buenos Aires and various satellite locations
- Taught a variety of courses in Argentina, including Church History, Preaching, Life of Christ, Pastoral Counseling, Christian Education.
- Designed and developed various courses for the Department of Professional Studies.
- Established a new church in Argentina working with Argentine lay leaders; instituted yearly youth camps working with Argentine and Chilean youth leaders.
- Experienced public speaker: 20 years preaching and speaking to groups in Latin America and throughout the United States.

Outside the Classroom

I love road trips, coffee with friends, reading, and discovering the delights of Oregon.