COMMENCEMENT SPEAKER: Jael K.D.L.V. CHAMBERS

Jael Chambers is the executive vice president at Lancaster Bible College in southeastern Pennsylvania, where, since 2023, he has helped shape the institution’s strategic direction and worked to advance its vision of integrating biblical truth with academic excellence. Prior to arriving at Lancaster Bible College, Jael worked with Young Life for seven years, and served as the associate regional director.

He is also the founder of Cultured Enuf, a Philadelphia-based consulting firm dedicated to building inclusive organizational cultures across corporations, nonprofits, schools and churches. His passion for this work led to the creation of Ed Enuf, a dynamic e-learning platform that blends online coursework with live workshops to empower educators and leaders across Pennsylvania and beyond to foster equity and cultural responsiveness in their communities.

Chambers’ commitment to diversity and transformation is deeply personal. Raised in urban Los Angeles by a single parent, he navigated a landscape rich in culture but marked by racial divides. That upbringing fueled a lifelong pursuit of bridging cultural gaps and championing belonging in every space he enters.

Chambers holds a bachelor’s degree in Christian ministries from George Fox and a master’s degree in urban studies from Eastern University. He is honored to return to his alma mater as the 2025 commencement speaker with his wife Elise, a spiritual director, and their two children.

As a courtesy to others, we ask that you remain seated and do not use flash photography during the program. For the presentation of diplomas portion only, guests are welcome to take pictures of their graduates in the guest photography area at the edge of the track to the left of the guest seating. Please remain behind the fencing and promptly return to your seat after your pictures are taken.

* Audience please stand

IN MEMORIAM

Zaid Fackenthall – Feb 22, 2003–October 24, 2023

ACADEMIC REGALIA

Academic regalia generally consist of cap, gown, and hood worn on formal occasions at institutions of higher learning. It originated in the medieval period when the vast majority of scholars were of the clergy. The gown evolved from what most likely was the clergy's robe. The gown was originally black, but color was introduced as institutions left ecclesiastical control. The bachelor's gown is worn closed and is distinguished by its pointed sleeves. A master's gown is designed to be worn closed with long, crescent-shaped sleeves. The doctor's garb may be worn open or closed with velvet panels down the front and three bars on the round, bell-shaped sleeves.

The most distinguishing feature of the academic attire is the hood. The hood originated as the skull cap worn by the clergy to protect their heads from the elements. The hood served a three-fold purpose: head covering, shoulder cap, and bag for alms. The size and shape of the hood designates not only the college degree of the wearer but also the university he or she attended. The master's hood is three and one-half feet in length, while the doctor's hood is rounded and measures four feet in length. Hoods are lined with the official colors of the institution conferring the degree. The official colors of George Fox University are old gold and navy blue. The binding around the hood is velvet with the color indicative of the major field of study.

The list of graduate names was provided to the printer several days prior to commencement to allow production of this program. The status of some candidates may have changed since that time. Some candidates will not have completed all requirements for their degrees; others not listed will have completed requirements. The listing of a name in this program does not obligate George Fox University to award a degree. For official purposes, a final corrected list of graduates will be retained by the Office of the Registrar.
