

FALL 2022 FACULTY LECTURE

THE FUTURE OF THE CHURCH:

Predictions and Practical Imaginations for Today

SUNGGU A. YANG
Tuesday, Oct. 18
6 – 7 p.m.
Hoover 105

What will the future of the church look like? What can we expect to happen in the church's life, worship, and education in the near future? Or more practically, what ought to happen now in the church for its future thriving? This lecture will explore these queries and others in a highly engaging tone and vibe. At the end of the day, the lecture will be about how to do the church in today's challenging, yet opportunity-full world.

Sunggu A. Yang, PhD, Associate Professor of Theology and Christian Ministries and recipient of the 2021-22 Faculty Achievement Award for Undergraduate Research & Scholarship

Lecture sponsored by FDC. Refreshments provided.
Contact: Jonelle Retsema | jretsema@georgefox.edu | 503-554-2650